Ryanair and Osprey Flight Solutions extend partnership for 5 years, bringing next gen aviation security technology to the skies

Ryanair, Europe's leading low-cost airline, and Osprey Flight Solutions, a global leader in aviation risk assessment solutions, have announced the extension of their partnership for a further five years. With Osprey's AI driven predictive intelligence solutions, the partnership will continue to focus on delivering the highest level of security intelligence to Ryanair.

Osprey has been working closely with Ryanair since 2020 and under the renewed partnership Ryanair will continue to have access to Osprey's suite of data driven risk assessment solutions. Leveraging Open-Source data, AI and world-leading expertise, the system tracks, reports, forecasts, and alerts on a multitude of factors that could ultimately lead to disruption to operations.

"We are delighted to extend our partnership with Osprey Flight Solutions for five years," said Carol Sharkey, Ryanair's Chief Risk Officer. "Safety is our No.1 priority, and Osprey's innovative solutions play a role in our operational safety and security decision making processes. We look forward to continuing to work with Osprey over the coming years."

Andrew Nicholson, CEO of Osprey Flight Solutions, added: "We are thrilled to continue our partnership with Ryanair and support their ongoing commitment to aviation security. By extending the partnership, Ryanair recognises the tangible operational and financial value delivered through our advanced technological solutions. We are proud to be providing the next generation of risk management solutions to Ryanair."

The renewed partnership between Ryanair and Osprey Flight Solutions highlights the importance of investing in safety management. With the aviation industry constantly evolving, it is essential that airlines work with trusted partners to ensure that they are operating at the highest level of safety and efficiency.
